Use of Cookies by SELCO Community Credit Union

To better serve our members, SELCO Community Credit Union (“SELCO”) uses small text files called cookies to collect anonymous website traffic data. Our cookies do not collect or store any personally identifiable information.

Google AdWords Policy

SELCO and third-party vendors, such as Google, use cookies to inform, optimize and provide advertisements based on a visitor’s past visits to our website.

As you use our website, we obtain information that we use for targeted messaging as you browse the Internet. For example, our remarketing campaigns with Google Adwords display content specific advertisements to visitors of our website when those visitors go to other websites that provide ads through Google.

Importantly, we do not share personally identifiable information with Google or other third-party vendors. For example, we do not collect or share your name, contact information, account information or any other membership information.

You can opt-out of Google’s use of cookies by visiting Google’s Ad Settings.

Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act

SELCO online services are not directed at or intended for the use of children under 13. We do not knowingly collect personal information for children under 13 without parental consent.
